

Patent Valuation Services

The value of a patent is a function of at least ten factors.

IPOfferings provides not just one, but three, Patent Valuation Services.

Each Patent Valuation is the collaboration of a patent researcher, patent licensing professional, and a senior patent broker.

Select the Patent Valuation Service that meets your particular needs and budget.

For added security and confidentiality, you can order your Patent Valuation as a hard-copy, bound document.

Additional Information

We Monetize Your IP Assets is a service mark of IPOfferings LLC.

As the leading patent brokerage firm, no company knows more about patent value than IPOfferings! As a result, IPOfferings provides not just one – but three – patent valuation services.

Here are the most important factors that determine the value of a patent.

1. What other patents in similar or related technologies or industries have sold for
2. Documented Evidence-of-Use for the patent
3. The patent's Priority Date and how long the patent has to run
4. The patent's Reverse and Forward Citations.
5. What other U.S. or foreign patents and applications are included in the patent family or portfolio
6. The legal strength of the patent
7. The market and growth dynamics for the patent
8. The technical and application dynamics of the patent
9. The litigation dynamics of the patent
10. The number of other similar patents that have been granted

Basic Patent Valuation ($1,000): This service provides a current market valuation (low and high value) by reporting and taking into account these metrics...
